

VALERIO DI PUNZIO

Frontend Developer
who supports Agencies and Companies in the Web Projects Realization

Since 2011 I'm focused on Frontend Development but with an eye on User Interface and User Experience Design.

I'm also passionate with photography, drawing, psychology and neuroscience.

I've worked for several web and communication agencies but also with startups and direct clients.

I collaborate with freelance designers and developers, with web and communication agencies to help them develop web projects for their clients.
